

Environmental policy.

We at STARSPRINGS AB will develop and manufacture products that meet the high environmental standards of society today and in the future.

Our ambition is to limit our overall environmental impact by continually improving our environmental work as a contribution to sustainable development.

We strive and plan for environmentally friendly production of our products, where we house water, energy and materials.
We will comply with laws and other requirements and work proactive against pollution of the environment.

We achieve this by:

- train staff in environmental issues and disseminate environmental thinking within the organization
- Provide relevant environmental requirements for suppliers
- work to reduce our waste and improve waste management
- Develop products that take into account our external environment
- Handle and store chemicals safely and switch to less environmentally-friendly products where there are alternatives
